* Havana is proud to have been the first restaurant in Maine to offer our guests wines on tap. These keg wines are the ultimate in eco-friendliness (a reusable metal keg eliminates the use of glass, corks, foils and boxes, creating no new waste) and the lack of contact with oxygen will ensure these wines stay fresh for weeks. Best of all, the Perrin family of Beaucastel makes fantastic wines, as we hope you will agree. We will fill a carafe for you in lieu of a bottle.

SAMPLE ANY 3* WHITE OR RED WINES - $18 - 2 OZ. OF EACH

Signifies a wine grown and made biodynamically

Signifies a wine grown and made organically

Signifies a wine grown and made naturally In this case the grapes were usually grown either organically or biodynamically but the wine is usually fermented using naturally occurring wild yeast, and usually unfiltered with no additives whatsoever.

15 GREAT WINES for $59 or LESS

We wanted to take a bit of the work out - here are 15 fantastic wines priced at $59 or less selected for you from our admittedly way-too-big wine list. To make things even simpler, we put some basic tasting notes under each wine. Don't look for "reminiscent of stone fruit with a hint of lychee" (who the heck knows what a lychee is anyway, let alone knows what they taste or smell like). Rather we have tried to put the wines in terms that everyone can relate to.

WHITES

Champagne	Jean Laurent, Brut, Blanc de Blancs - Champagne	NV	half-bottle	$49
	Real Champagne for $49? Admittedly a half bottle but still, fantastic bubbly!
Chardonnay	Talbott, "Kali Hart" - Monterey	2021		$55
	Full and rich wine with complex fruit, attractive toasted barrel elements and a balancing freshness
Albarino	La Cana - Rias Baixas, Spain	2022		$49
	From coastal Spain - what's that mean: crisp, dry, bracing, great with seafood, particularly shellfish
Clairette, etc.	Chateau Pegau, "Lone" - Cotes du Rhone, France	2021		$49
	Another perfect accompaniment for all types of seafood. Aromatic, dry white, no oak, startlingly alive.
Riesling - Kabinett	St. Urbans-hof, Ockfener Bockstein Saar	2021		$49
	Don't think sweet - think perfectly balanced
Gruener Veltliner	Himmelstiege, Federspiel - Wachau, Austria	2021		$39
	The wine geeks darling. Why? Because it has great flavor and goes great with food, our cuisine in particular
Chenin Blanc	Pine Ridge - Napa	2022		$39
	Chenin Blanc should be the next grape thing - fresh, crisp, dry - another great paella wine

REDS

Pinot Noir	Sean Minor, "California Series" - California	2021		$49
	Honestly, as good or better than many higher-priced Pinots - definitely not Burgundy though - this is a New World Pinot Noir meaning the fruit is more pronounced and it will satisfy many of you fruit bomb lovers - a good bridge for the "one orders seafood/one orders steak" dilemma
Montepulciano d'Abruzzo	Cataldi Madonna, "Malandrino" - Abruzzo, Italy	2020		$49
	Medium bodied, cherries, earthy, traditional, can also "bridge the gap" of Tuna/Steak
Malbec	Bodega Noemia, "A Lisa" - Rio Negro Valley, Argentina	2021		$59
	Why did everyone start drinking Malbec? - Because it is the BFF of red meat! 90 pts. m.s.
Douro	Casa Ferreirinha, "Papa Figos" - Portugal	2020		$39
	Touriga Nacional and some other grapes you have never heard of - medium bodied, bright fruit
Garnacha	Bodegas Breca "Breca" - Calatayud, Spain	2018		$42
	Deep, black, purple, spicy, full bodied, great wine, great value - 90 pts m.a.
Cabernet	Cousino Macul - Maipo Valley, Chile	2019		$35
	Not too big, not too small, just right - good Cabernet is like Classic Rock to us - and this is just like that
	Oberon - Napa Valley, California	2021		$59
	There is no Keynesian-based reason why great Napa Cabernet should all be $100+ - this proves it - fantastic wine
Shiraz	D'Arenberg, "The Footbolt" - McLaren Vale, Australia	2018		$42
	Not a mouth puckering, "too big for its' own good" Shiraz but still true to its' roots - spicy, jammy and big

OUR ALL-STAR LINE-UP - $59 - $149

Here are some fairly stunning wines, selected from our list, priced between $59 and $149 chosen for typicality (e.g. the Pinot Noir tastes like a Pinot Noir, lighter bodied and elegant), deliciousness, and impact. Impact meaning that these are wines that we hope will "stay with you" for awhile. We certainly remember the first time we tried these beauties.

WHITES & A ROSE

Champagne	Aubry, Brut, 1er Cru, Jouy-Les-Reims One of the great grower/producers in Champagne - a top quality Champagne for a great price.	NV	$98
Rose	Fabien Jouvès, "A Table" - Vin de France It's a darker rose but drinks quite light!	2020	$59
Godello	Raul Perez, Ultreia - Bierzo, Spain A superb example of an all too often overlooked white - full bodied but good acidity	2020	$79
Sauvignon Blanc	Cadre, "Stone Blossom" - Edna Valley, California Imagine if there were Sauvignon Blanc pop rocks...this wine is right there with its explosive freshness on the palate	2021	$69
Riesling	Domaine Weinbach, "Cuvee Colette" - Alsace, France Juicy peach and plum fruit, lemony citrus, savory salinity, and still nice and dry	2019, '20	$105
Albarino	Palacio de Fefinanes, "1583" - Rias Baixas, Spain Paella, perfect match. Lobster, perfect too.	2022	$89
Chardonnay	Capensis - Western Cape, Fijnbosch Vnrd, S.A. All the stuff you'd expect - but in all the right proportions. Full bodied and delicious - 93pts Decanter	2016	$145

REDS

Rioja	Lopez y Heredia, Tondonia - Reserva Spain Perfect Balance between fruit, tannins, acidity, body, etc. - 92 pts. m.e.	2011	$125
Super Tuscan	Rocca di Frassinello, "Ornello" - Italy Some Sangiovese, some Cab, some Merlot - "Elegant + understated" - 92 m.a.	2018, '19	$75
Mencia	Descendientes De J. Palacios, "Corullon" - Bierzo, Spain 50-90 yr. old vines, Mencia grape - 96 pts m.a.	2019	$99
Burgundy	Vincent & Sophie Morey - Chassagne-Montrachet, Vieilles Vignes "This red is opulent and velvety. A solid structure gives it the framework needed to age and it finishes with saturated black fruit, mineral and spice"	2017	$125
Frappato/Nero d'Avola	Occhipinti, SP68 Rosso - Terre Siciliane "Cool and pleasant, with a delicate taste that brings the flavour of the sun and the freshness of this land."	2020	$75
Syrah	Samsara - Santa Barbara County Pristine, powerful and purple fruit - drinking very well right now - 92 pts. m.a.	2017	$89
Malbec	Catena, "Alta" - Mendoza, Argentina "Really gorgeous" 93 pts. m.s. - powerful but not overwhelming, great with steaks	2018	$95
Cab Blend	Justin, "Isoceles" - Paso Robles, California Always a "wine of the vintage" the Isoceles is a perfect match for lamb or beef	2018, '19	$125
Pinot Noir	Anthill Farms - Sonoma Coast, California A lighter bodied Pinot from cooler climate Sonoma Coast - another good match for bridging the gap between steak and rich seafood dishes	2020, '21	$85

CAVAS, SPARKLERS & OTHER BUBBLIES

Bubbliies aren't just for breakfast anymore! Not just for New Year's Eve either. These wines go fantastic with food and we have glasses and half bottles galore. Cava is sparkling wine from Spain. Champagne of course only comes from the Champagne region of France but even you Francophiles will be impressed by our American sparklers, particularly the surprise from New Mexico, Gruet, or the Pet-Nat from Maine, Oyster River's "Morphos".

"PET-NATS"

"PET-NATS" - TRADITIONAL METHOD SPARKLERS

The new hip sparkling wine: Petillant Naturel is really an ancient method of making sparkling wine. Petillant-Naturels or Pét-Nats, are made by stopping an unfinished fermentation and then bottling the wine before allowing the fermentation to complete, resulting in a sometimes cloudy wine that's fizzy but less bubbly than modern Champagnes. The Pét-Nat method is not limited to a specific region, but leading areas include the Loire Valley in France, and parts of Spain and Italy. But we've got a couple fantastic ones from right here in Maine and our neighbor Vermont as well.

Piquettes, Rose Sparklers, & Other French Sparklers

PIQUETTES

Low in alcohol and with a touch of fizz that makes them reminiscent of wine spritzers, Piquettes are technically not wine, as they're not made from fermented grapes; instead, they're made by adding water to grape pomace (the leftover skins, seeds, and stems of the fruit) and fermenting what's left of the sugars. Most importantly for you to know - absolutely delicious and a fantastic aperitif for 2 or 4 or more!

Field Blend	Old Westminster, Pet-Nat Piquette - Maryland	2019	7%	$39
Meunier	Une Femme, "The Piquette" - Sonoma Mountain	2020	10%	$49
Pinot Blanc Blend	Grape Abduction, Piquette - Stajerska, Slovenia	2020	7%	$49

CHAMPAGNES & FRENCH SPARKLERS

As Lilly Bollinger has famously said about Champagne, "I drink it when I'm happy and when I'm sad. Sometimes I drink it when I'm alone. When I have company I consider it obligatory. I trifle with it if I'm not hungry and drink it when I am. Otherwise, I never touch it, unless I'm thirsty."

BTW - Brut Nature means super dry, Brut means dry, Demi-Sec means a bit sweet

ORANGE WINES

A LITTLE BIT ORANGE

The following wines have had just a bit of time spent on the skins - the next page has orange wines that have spent weeks, months or even a year on the skins

Another major trend is the advance of orange wines. Like Pet-Nats, what's old is new again - having some skin contact for white wines is as old as wine itself. And the name is quite self-describing - these are white wines but instead of crushing the grapes and working with the juice that runs off to make wine, the wine-maker leaves the juice together with the must (skins and seeds and stems) for anywhere from a few hours to a few days to a few weeks. You can guess what that results in: more color, from pale orange to bright amber depending partially on how long the skins were in contact with the juice; more body, from the additional compounds leached out of the skins; more flavor, more tannins, etc.

MAGNUMS, JEROBOAMS & BEYOND

Many people believe that wine ages better in a large bottle (surface area to volume proportions and such). But forgetting the science, there is nothing like popping a big bottle to celebrate a special occasion or just a gathering of friends and family. On top of that, we have kept the prices reasonable.

A 1.5 L will pour 8 large or 10 medium glasses of wine, good for a party of 5-10 people, depending of course on your group.

SOME OXIDATIVE WINES - it's a good thing

Most of these wines have been deliberately exposed to heat and/or oxygen by a variety of methods. In these cases, it's a good thing, resulting in complex flavors and shelf stable wines, some of which can stay open with no deterioration, theoretically, forever. Generally, sherries, rancios, and other oxidative wines are best enjoyed as aperitifs, and pair well with cheeses, charcuterie, some seafood and other appetizers. However, most of the Madeiras (on the next page), and the Cream and Pedro Ximenez sherries are quite sweet and go well either pre or post dinner.

~ SOME FINAL SPANISH REDS ~

One of our favorite regions of Spain, in the northwest, along and above Portugal. We've included four appellations here, all using primarily the Mencia grape. In the past, winemakers used the grape to make elegant, light-bodied fruit-forward wines. In recent years however, much more concentrated and complex wines have been produced by a new generation of winemakers, primarily from old vines growing on hillsides, often on schist soils, and in combination with careful vineyard management.

Beaujolais

Forget about that Beaujolais Nouveau plonk - a marketing effort from the early Eighties that admittedly did a great job getting folks to drink more Beaujolais. But Beaujolais Nouveau was just that, "new" wine that was made for easy drinking around the harvest time. It was - and still is - wine not meant to be complex or layered and to some folks did a disservice to the many quality winemakers in the large region. The real deal in Beaujolais is the Crus, or villages. Just like in Burgundy, Bordeaux, Napa or most every other large wine region, the Beaujolais area is quite diverse in geography and that results in a variety of fantastic wines. There are different quality levels, the top most of which is Cru Beaujolais. There are 10 Crus and we have below a selection (or more) from all of them. As with all Beaujolais, the wines are made from the Gamay grape, which makes a fruit forward, lighter bodied red wine. Some of the Crus are known for making particularly light-bodied wines, and we've listed them - generally - from lightest to fullest bodied.

OUR CHATEAU BEUCASTEL VERTICAL

Chateauneuf-du-Pape is one our favorite wines for so many reasons - it's history, romance, rich flavors and of course it's ability to age gracefully for decades. While one would be very well served and could enjoy immensely the recent vintages of 2014, '15 '16 and '17 we think the wines that Chateau Beaucastel make get more interesting with some years on them. Maybe this is partly because Beaucastel uses more Mourvedre than most other Chateauneuf producers - usually 30% - 40% Mourvedre, 20% - 30% Grenache, 10% Syrah, 10% Counoise, and the balance split among the other permitted varietals of the appellation. Finally, the estate farms all of their fruit for the Chateauneuf biodynamically. 🌿
